

Improving Health and Lives
Learning Disabilities Observatory

How social care providers can support the health needs of people with learning disabilities

A free all day event

Wednesday 15th March 2017

The Royal Cambridge Hotel, Trumpington Street, Cambridge CB2 1PY

or

Tuesday 28th March 2017

The Beacon, Westgate Road, Newcastle upon Tyne NE4 9PQ

People with learning disabilities have poorer health and die younger than other people. Good support can help people with learning disabilities have better health and better lives.

This event will include information about the Health Charter for Social Care Providers. There will be practical guidance on how social care providers and staff can have an important role in helping people access good healthcare and lead a healthy lifestyle.

Who should attend?

This event is aimed at family members and professionals who provide care and support for people with learning disabilities.

How to book?

Click on the links below which will take you to the online booking system

Cambridge 15th March

Newcastle 28th March

These places are taken up very fast; please let us have your application as soon as possible